Welsh's Weight Is Only 129 1-2 Pounds, as Reported, It Proves He Has Been Doing Some Hard Work for the White Bout.

Courtes 1914 to The Free Patricking Co COORDING to the official who examines the weights and meaures in Denver, Col., Freddy weighs only 139 is pounds. The Scial weigher weighed him in person, after first testing the scales.

If this information is true Freddie has been doing some good hard training for the White bout. Even with me's own personally selected referee a the ring there is some danger of sing by a clean knockout.

Weish was well trained and down much lower than usual in weight when he boxed Renny Leonard in Brooklyn. He fought better than in several years, and quite upset the theory that he had lost his speed and his cunning. If Weish is in still bet er chape for the fight with Charlie White he should be able to silde through the twenty rounds without running his chin into the K. O. punch Weish always has had an astonishing lot of vitality and endurance. He is a natural long distance fighter, having everything but a punch. He is much faster than White. Benny Leonard would have a better chance to beat the Englishman in twenty rounds than White, for he has as much speed as Welsh and the endurance of youth. Leonard, however, is out of all calculations because of the fact that he never fought a twentyround fight and hasn't established himself as anything but a clever fel lew in a ten-round no-decision affair The difference between twenty-round Sighting, with a decision, and a tenround no-decision bout is the difference between a gallon of Jersey lightning and a glass of strawberry

GREATER NEW YORK has two fighting ball teams—the Yanks and the Dodgers. There have been few instances in which a team has gone out in front and held its place as doggedly through all the synar. For weeks nearly all of the wise baseball sharps have been predicting that they will crack, and have been down to for a team to do what Brooklyn has been doing—and still is doing. But the Brooklyn has been do taken will go right on fighting to the end of the season. Brooklyn won't crack! If any other club takes the lead it will be only by playing extraordinarily good ball. And it will take some corking ball playing to need off the Dodgers at the clip they

The Yanks are fighters. They refuse to worry over the losses or to admit to themselves that they are srippled in the least. The reserves believe they are as good as the first-line men, and they're out to prove it. The Yanks may be licked now and then, but nobody can deny that they are a real ball club!
